

St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

PUBLISHED BY
THE DISPATCH PUBLISHING CO.
JOSEPH PULVER, President.

(Entered as the Post Office at St. Louis, Mo., as second class mail matter.)

TERMS OF THE DAILY.

One year, postage paid..... $9.00
Six months..... 5.00
Three months..... 2.50
One month..... .85
One month delivered by carrier..... .65
By the week delivered by carrier..... .15
Subscribers who fail to receive their paper regularly will confer a favor upon us by reporting the same to this office by postal card.

THE WEEKLY.

One year, postage paid..... $3.00
Six months..... 1.50
All business or news letters or telegrams should be addressed
POST-DISPATCH,
515 and 517 Market street.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 24, 1885.

Subscribers to the Post-Dispatch who contemplate leaving the city during the summer will receive their paper as usual if they will leave the new address at this office or give it to the carrier.

The Democratic minority in Vermont will feel that they have not lived in vain when they read in this morning's London dispatch that Mrs. Phelps has had the honor of dancing with the Prince of Wales and that "her diamonds were superb."

ACTING-PRESIDENT TEMPLE of the Council last night refused to call to order the committee of the whole to consider the water gas ordinance. Any one who expected Mr. TEMPLE to act otherwise must have been wholly unacquainted with the situation.

It is understood that Senator Vanz is in Washington to prefer charges of offensive partnership against Postmaster CASE of Kansas City. It is also understood that the Democratic act otherwise must have been wholly unacquainted with the situation.

The stories telegraphed every now and then from Washington about impending ruptures between Missouri Senators and the administration on account of the common run of Missouri office-seekers, are not only fanciful but highly improbable. No applicant who was related to either of the Senators has failed to get there.

We observe that some of the most eminent railroad experts of Missouri—and this means that they are among the most eminent railway experts of the world—are up at Jefferson City pointing out to the State Board of Equalization the items in the assessment which appear to them to be "too high." We do not observe any experts pointing out those items which appear to be under-assessed.

Of course it is perfectly right and proper for the railroad managers of this State to appear before the State Board of Equalization and argue their side of the case. But we do not understand that the Board is a law court which can give judgment against the people by default, or dismiss their case because they have retained no attorney. On the contrary, the members of the Board are themselves attorneys of the people. They are there to represent the people, to protect the interests of the people and to be guided, not by ex-parte arguments, but by actual values and plain facts, of which they have knowledge, and to rectify all inequalities of assessment, not only by reducing excessive assessments, but by equalizing defective assessments.

It is possible to get St. Louis statistics that are not utterly worthless and unreliable. According to the school census for the current year, St. Louis has a population of 108,518 between the ages of 6 and 90 years. This shows an increase of 8,688, or only about 9 per cent as compared with the school census, taken June 1, 1880, which gave a population of 104,870 between the ages of 6 and 90. Yet in the intervening years St. Louis has built 10,000 houses, an increase of nearly 25 per cent, and if there are more vacant houses now than usual, it is known that hard times are compelling the people to crowd together more than they ever did before to save rents. We may not be able to say which census is false, but it is plain that, if either of them is true, the other one must be grossly false.

The State Board of Equalization is at a great disadvantage in dealing with the railroads on the question of assessment. The official authority on railroad earnings, values and on all facts and figures connected with the question of railroads in Missouri is the annual report of the Railroad Commissioners, and this document is very deficient in information. It has neither index nor table of contents, nor general tables of any kind. It does not give the mileage, earnings, expenses, stocks and bonds of the portion lying within Missouri of roads that are only partly within the State, and it throws as little light upon the question of values as possible. There is no excuse for the careless manner in which the report is gotten up, and we sincerely hope that the next issue will show an improvement. It is only fair to add that all the public documents of the State without exceptions are about as bad as they can be.

In the absence of detailed reports of the income and expenses of Mexico, it is hard to understand the necessity of the stringent measures of retrenchment which are announced in this morning's telegram. The impression has been given that Mexico was increasing in business and prosperity, and it was only natural to suppose that the first effect of the new movement would be shown in the National treasury. Instead of this, we are told that the Comandante administration has left the country without a dollar in cash, and with the finances so disordered that there is no alternative but repudiation. It will be a hard blow to the country if the Comandante House certificates are repudiated. These certificates represent obligations entered into by the capitalists who have put their money into Mexican railroad enterprises. If the Government finds itself unable to receive these certificates it will put a stop to further investment in corporate improvements in Mexico.

SINCE Mr. BAYARD became Secretary of State New York has obtained twelve diplomatic and consular appointments with salaries aggregating $47,804 per annum; Ohio five with salaries totaling $30,700; Maryland three with $38,500 a year; Indiana three with $34,500 a year; Kentucky three with $10,000 a year; Vermont and Michigan one each with $24,000 a year; Virginia two with $17,500 a year; South Carolina five with $15,000 a year; North Carolina two with $15,000 a year; Texas two with $14,500 a year; Louisiana three with $14,100 a year; Alabama three with $15,000 a year; Georgia one with $12,000 a year; Connecticut three with $15,500 a year. Missouri comes in with the less important States for slight recognition. She gets the Halifax Consularship for PHILLEN, $5,000 a year; the Toronto Consularship for WAGNER, $2,000 a year; the Mexican Consularship for EWING, $3,000 a year, and a consular clerkship for Vanz, $2,000 a year—$9,000 a year for all. But as nearly half of this is divided between the son of one Senator and the brother-in-law of another Senator, Missouri is supposed to be happy and grateful.

A SINGULAR instance of the mastery way in which the State Board of Equalization allows railroad property to escape taxation is afforded by the mysterious disappearance of the St. Charles bridge from the tax books. For several years under the bridge was completed the Wabash, under a lease from the Bridge Company, reluctantly paid taxes on the bridge at a valuation of $600,000, divided between the St. Louis and St. Charles Counties. There was so much difficulty about the collection of the taxes that the county authorities agreed to accept a smaller valuation, on the promise of prompt pay. This railroad tax was paid for one year, when the Wabash purchased the bridge, and since then—some three years—not a cent has been realized by either county from that valuable bridge property. By novel logical argument, which was entirely satisfactory to the State Board, the bridge was accounted as part of the main track and its value was distributed along the entire route. It was distributed so finely, however, that no trace of it has ever been found. The local authorities have persistently fought the fraud before the Board, but without success. Two Judges of St. Charles County presented the matter to the new Board recently, but the railroad conquered again.

The Republican this morning says, editorially:

The school census, which is just completed, shows that out of 108,518 children of school-going age in St. Louis, only 30,000 attend school. This is an appalling disclosure of the necessity for missionary work by our educators.

The local columns of the same paper give quite another version. The report of the School Board meeting says:

The census, which was taken under the supervision of Dr. G. G. Smith, showed the following school population, or children between the ages of 6 and 90 years:

| | |
|----------------------|---------|
| White males..... | 58,511 |
| White females..... | 50,501 |
| Total..... | 109,012 |
| Colored males..... | 2,495 |
| Colored females..... | 2,467 |
| Total colored..... | 4,962 |

Total number of school age..... 109,044
The total number of pupils enrolled on June 1, 1885, according to the superintendent's quarterly report, was: In the schools, 38,500; in the kindergarten, 3,840; the average daily attendance in the schools, 30,441; in the kindergarten, 2,860.

There is "necessity for missionary work by our educators." Some one ought to set up as a missionary for the benefit of the Republic offices. The average daily attendance at school does not represent the number of children who attend school. The so-called school age is generally used as a basis for a State apportionment, not for the purpose of keeping young men and women of 90 at school. All of the children enrolled "attend school," and the enrollment in the public schools alone is not 30,000, but 38,500—a trifling discrepancy of only 10,106. There are ten or twelve thousand persons of school age attending private and parochial schools, and, altogether, the school census, as published in the Republican's own columns, shows that there are very few children who do not receive a common school education. Instead of calling for any reduction on the intelligence of St. Louis, the very large number of children attending school and the very small number of children who read the Republican show that in St. Louis education is universal, and that intelligence keeps pace with it.

The Parrells bravely reject an invitation to cross the House with the Conservatives. The Liberals rush to join the Parrells on the Opposition side, with an alacrity betokening gleeful anticipations of success. SALISBURY has undertaken to carry on the Government with a helpless minority in the House by means of a compact with GLADSTONE, which rather vaguely limits opposition on the condition that the House of Lords shall pass the House measures in regard to the franchise extension and the apportionment of parliamentary seats. By shifting responsibility and leaving office on a budget vote which favors more of a technical pretext than of a real defeat, Mr. GLADSTONE has secured for the November election the franchise reforms which might otherwise have been indefinitely obstructed by the Conservative branch of Parliament. By this move he has also avoided a rupture in his own Ministry and party on the eve of the election, and put the Conservatives nominally in power, but really committed to the consummation of the very measures of foreign and domestic policy which were their chosen points of attack on them. Going into office under such circumstances, to rule nominally for a brief period by the sufferance of an adverse majority, makes the Salisbury Cabinet a political fiasco, taking desperate chances and trusting to lucky accidents for assistance in holding a barren sceptre which has been placed in their hands when they had not the strength to wrest it from the stronger party. Fortune sometimes strangely favors those who trust her, but it hardly seems possible for the Salisbury administration to be anything more than a butt and a cat's paw in the hands of its political enemies, a tub thrown out for the whales of the radical and Irish schools to vent their fury upon, while Mr. GLADSTONE knits together again the raveled elements of the Liberal party for the approaching election.

We do not see how the Republicans can expect to win by again raising the flag of sectionalism and renewing the old howl of political proscription against the gray-haired cripples who were young rebels some twenty odd years ago. To arraign a Democratic Administration for recognizing the complete restoration of the South to the Union and of her people to full citizenship and political equality is to arraign that Administration for carrying out in good faith the amnesty legislation enacted by the Republicans when they were in power. Republican legislation has made all these old rebels eligible to office, and Republican administration has set the example of freely appointing them to office without invidious discrimination on account of their former participation in the rebellion. Republican administration, instead of discriminating against them, jumped at every opportunity to lavish honors and offices upon any one of them who would lend himself and his influence to the political uses of the Republican party.

Republican Administrations made ACKERMAN of Georgia Attorney-General; Key of Tennessee Postmaster-General; HUGHES of Virginia and SETTLE of North Carolina, United States Judges; LEWIS of North Carolina, WALTON and CHANDLER of Mississippi, and NORTHUP of South Carolina, United States District Attorneys; ORA of South Carolina, Minister to Russia; LONGSTREET, Surveyor at New Orleans and afterwards United Marshal in Georgia; HUNT and MORRIS of Mississippi, United States Marshals; SPEER of Georgia, District Attorney and afterwards Federal Judge—and these are only some of the prominent "traitors" whose treason was rewarded with offices conferred by Republican administrations. Even as long ago as 1878, Mr. GARFIELD said in the House that "the man who attempts to get up a political excitement in this country on the old sectional issues will find himself without a party and without support." He was elected President on that declaration in 1880 by the Republican party, and which-party elects the President in 1888 will strongly regret that some feeling much more strongly developed in all our parties.

The Brooklyn-Bug in Politics.
From the San Francisco Chronicle.

The railroads have had power enough to kill several of the ablest anti-monopoly leaders and money enough to buy up others, but the movement of the white labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not whether anti-monopoly is still alive, but whether there is any other issue worth fighting for. That is the great question for American statesmen to study today. He who masters it most thoroughly may aspire to the highest office in the gift of the people. Things cannot go on as they are. Everything indicates that we are entering upon a new era in which labor will not command the price of little, and making heavy even in the most unlikely places. It will very soon be a question, not

Ladies' & Misses' Jerseys
 Choice Fabrics and Correct Styles at Extremely Low Prices.
 Handsome Merino Jerseys, : : : : : 49c
 Perfect-Fitting, fine wool fabric : : : : : 99c
 Cashmere, Tailor-Made : : : : : $1.45
 Elegant Braided : : : : : 99c
 Cashmere, handsomely trimmed with silver braid : : : : : 2.95
 Misses' All-Wool Jerseys, from 39c upward.
 Bargains in every Department. Dresses made to order at short notice. All orders will receive prompt and careful attention.

EXTRADITION DENIED.

Dr. Stephens Acquitted—The Owens Poisoning Case—Texas Topics.

Fort Worth, June 24.—Judge Beekm an yesterday discharged the Phoenix brothers, alias La Croix brothers, on the ground that O'Neil could not demand the extradition of men wanted for crimes committed in Michigan. Steps will now be taken to get a requisition from the Governor of Michigan.

Doctor J. T. Stephens, who was indicted for the murder of Doctor Wallace, was acquitted by the jury last night, after a brief deliberation.

St. Anthonio, Tex., June 24.—The steamer Star was destroyed by fire during the night. Several parties sleeping aboard were rescued, but the vessel was burned to the water line.

Anna Owens, who is charged with poisoning her husband, is in the penitentiary in the hands of the law.

ACHES! PAINS!

"I ache all over!" What a common expression; and how much it means to many a poor sufferer! These aches have a cause, and more frequently than is generally suspected, the cause is the Liver or Kidneys. No disease is more painful or serious than these, and no remedy is so prompt and effective as

Hon. Thaddeus Stevens, the distinguished Congressman, once wrote to a fellow member who was suffering from indigestion and kidney disease:—
"Try Mishieler Herb Bitters. I believe it will cure you. I have used it for both indigestion and rheumatism. The Mishieler Herb Bitters is the most wonderful combination of medicinal herbs I ever saw."
MISHELER HERB BITTERS CO.,
525 Commerce St., Philadelphia.
Parker's Pleasant St. Pyrupur Never Fails

DIED.
 Burial and death notices will be inserted at the rate of ten lines per line for five lines.

HAMBOROUGH—SWENSON, aged 5 years, beloved son of F. and Emma Hamborough, died Wednesday, June 2, at 10 o'clock.

Funeral will take place from residence, 1232 Carr street, Friday, at 2:30 o'clock.

PALIN—Died at the residence, No. 2702 Washington avenue, on the fifth line, at 8 o'clock a.m. Swedish burial, the same day at this age.

Due notice of the funeral will be given.

BASEBALL.

UNION GROUNDS

Cor. Cass and Jefferson Aves.,
TO - MORROW,
ST. LOUIS
 VS.
BOSTON

Game Called at 4 O'Clock.

ates 25c per nillie or 75c and $1 per hour. Double ates after midnight.

GRANDS!
Broadway opposite Southern Hotel.
Fourth street between First and Olive.
Fourth street opposite the Opera House.
Washington avenue, corner 11th street.
Catch your dog here found at the above places between the hours of 9 a. m. and 5 o'clock p. m., or can be had at any hour day or night upon orders to the office, northwest corner of 11th and Washington streets.

Telephone No. 705, also
B. & O. Call Boxes.

JOHN MAQUIRE
REAL ESTATE AGENT

"NO. 68 WALNUT ST., DETROIT AND CTR."

"O LADIES!" I will send FIVE CHARGES OF THE medicine for restoring a barren marriage to fertility. It is guaranteed to produce children if you persist in its use on condition that after its successful use you will consent to let me give further treatment free.

DR. LEONARD LAURIE, Sandusky, Ohio.

Crossman's Specific Mixture.

With this remedy people can cure themselves without the expense of a doctor. It cures all kinds of throat troubles. The smallest amount neutralizes the acid secretions of the throat. Ask your druggist for it. It costs 40 cents a bottle.

OPEN EVERY DAY.

Rented for Picnics and Festivals at REDUCED RATES.

KOERNER'S
Saloon and Restaurant,
415 Washington Avenue.
Served from 10:30 a. m. to 9:00 p. m. Meals on all hours.
Dance band every Friday night.

Louisville's new pitcher, Connor, proved a picnic for the heavy Cincinnati sluggers, and they rolled up seven runs in the first inning. A total of twenty-three bases, with apparent ease, every man on the club securing a hit. Louisville also made costly errors in the second and third innings. The Cincinnati, but four were earned. While was effective in his delivery, and the Louisville made but six runs in the first two innings. The Cincinnati, however, netted them two runs, the final score being: Cincinnati, 10; Louisville, 3.

Amateur Base-ball Notes.

The Coaling Base-ball Club has organized for the season, with Winkler, c; O'Brien, p; Harold, Carty, Newman and Maloney on base; Randall, Lancaster and Ward on the bench. They will challenge to J. C. White and his Leonard avenue.

The United of the South St. Louis Turner Society have organized for the season with the following team: A. Brown, c; Webb, p; Traxler, 1b; ...

be transacted at the Third street station, and outside a great convenience to the business men, if they it is allowed to sell money orders and registered letters.

Police Board Meeting.

The Board of Police Commissioners met yesterday afternoon. Officer Frank Lewis was tried for assaulting Tim Kirly, a saloon-keeper, and was found and cautioned. Officer McGrath was brought on a charge of assaulting a prisoner, but his case was dropped. A resolution providing that visiting private watchmen to wear uniforms in the future was passed unanimously.

The Jury Disagreed.

Yesterday, June 24—The jury in the case of Dr. Ames, Jr., United States Pension Examiner, charged with extorting $2,000 from other pensioners in office, disagreed this morning.

WHOLESALE FORGERY.

of Italian Murderers—Did Canned Meat—Illinois Slema.

June 8.—James Durley, who suspended himself from the gallows for the crime of murdering a man, was arrested on charges of forgery by A. B. Roberts, who holds notes issued to him by Durley for $1,000. The parties claiming to have signed the notes cannot be traced and it is alleged to be a case of wholesale forgery.

Durley has been prominent in church circles.

May 24.—The trial of the five Italian murderers of a fellow-countryman, Filippo Commenzo yesterday morning. The sentence was to hang, a jury of six was charged to decide for the money it

...the ...
...B.
...J
REAL
...NO. 81
TO LADIES
...for
HUAT on credit
...
Crossing
With this
...in
...to
...the

O. Call Boxes.

JHN MAQUIRE
STATE AGENT
LNUST ST. HELSINKI AND 678.

I will send FREE OF CHARGE the following information regarding the DISTINGUISHED and REVOLUTIONARY that after its successful use you will be able to identify it.
DONALD DATCHY, Sandusky, Ohio.

n's Specific Mixture.

persons can cure themselves without danger by using this mixture. It the medicine contains nothing that is of the constituents. Ask your druggist for it.

Washington address at Fair Ground
OFF
Rented for P
RECEIVED
K
Saloon as 415 War
Denver Street 110 ft
New York Street 110 ft

THE STREET.

and Zoological Garden.

EVERY DAY.

Amuse and Festivals at

RED RATES.

SEERNER'S

and Restaurant,

Kingston Avenue.

to call p. m. Made at all hours.

by invitation.

ONER OF '65

of Jeff Davis' Cellars
Press Monroe.

The Officer Who Had
Tells the Story—The Assassination—
Him in Shackles.

written incidents in the Davis that I think would siders," said Maj. John S.
day. The Major was out of the Third Pennsylvania Fortress Monroe
of the Southern States.

Incidents connected with has I think are never
and if you will take notes
them to you," continued
the following:

of May, 1865, considera-
at the fortress
from the War Depart-
should prepare the case-
of prisoners of war.

ing carried out, and William P. Davis, who
aving on board Jefferson Clay. She came to an-which required me to
to visit the distinguished necessary to issue very government of the south
had suffered the horrors and the news of President was fresh in their
Davis was closely con-
with all the sufferings long campaign, and the
the against the Governportunity was lacking to
of the Confederacy ex-
of the men would have had, even had he known he next moment.

by him with any
was with her husband,
sely solicited for her hus-
requested, the officers
before we reached that
on gaining his liberty Hermann sought the General at New Orleans, and narrated the
of his wife.

He was suffering
had deprived him
and was besides half

are permitted to stay on
days with their families,
A. J. Davis, Assistant Sec-
preparations to bring
line of sentries was
at Fort Monroe, but as
able to see Davis when he
and went aboard and led
sitting him to take leave of
on leading Gen. Miles
sonner and led him into
of the water-battery pos-
forming an impetuous
At the entrance of the
and escorted him to a cell
the gun-room.

we were taken to make this
the aids by relief parties.
heavily, but he was
to keep out the light,
at cot—was placed be-
The door opening into
to be taken to the cell
cell with the prisoner,
door an officer of the
to watch the sentries
sees advertisement for her on a stray page
of a New Orleans newspaper; that she had
issued regarding the
He was allowed no read-
Bible and prayer-book,
any ration, except a cup
for breakfast with a lump
read and coffee for dinner
for supper. He was pro-
not let her do anything
ill with dyspepsia and had
to eat nothing but
which he had been accus-
to eat, and went with-
He was getting a
the way Union soldiers
men in prison, although
the sumptuous compared with
at.

An incident occurred illustrating the North. He arrested was sent to pre-

Dr. asked the Doctor,
was the reply.
a permit you to touch
with me; is there no other
of New Jersey?

Well, that's an improvement
him to me.
tended the arch rebel an-

tramp, tramp of the ex-
down his cell, annoy-
at him angrily in a
walking. The sentry,
to the prisoner, so he
and his meanness, was
exasperated, and, if you
tempted to wrest this no-

he promptly reported
from Washington dis-
trous. This order was
blacksmiths came to the
of the common story of
national chain and lock
light and the sentry
and with rivets.

is this outrage per-
feminine with rage,
passion. "I protest
this indignity," and
of the blacksmiths skull if
his arm.

to had charge of the iron
I, am a soldier again.
my superior officer. You do know as well as I do
ried out, whether you sub-

Johnson took of this
as he sat down upon his
months to rive the shackles,
understand that Secretary
in securing the prisoner.

of the iron proved very gall-
humiliation was commu-
before he was the head of the
the present and Commander-in-
of the southern army. Now we tal out in a Yankee prison
his clothing or even to down
of his country, but
of his country, but

of chains
catia,
at him angrily in a
black-

black-

black-

black-

black-

black-

black-

black-

black-

black-

black-

black-

black-

black-

black-

black-

black-

black-

black-

black-

black-

black-

black-

THE WHISPER OF THE POPLARS

A breath came to me from the old home fields;
In the still night, upon sleep's tranquil wings,
The sound of waters, parting ways
And parting blossoms, in my glass ear rings,
And like a song steals into my fair dream,
The whisper of the poplars by the stream.

The years that brought such bitter grief and pain
Are but as mist beyond the misty loam;
My careless hands I fill with roses pink,
My eyes are light as the dawn's first gleam,
Softly the sunbeams on the waters gleam,
Softly the poplars whisper by the stream.

I see the cool leaves silver in the breeze,
The still cloud shadows in the grassland;
The old red mill stands fast in the sun,
With flag flowers tangled in its broken wheel;
The red poplars stand at night as before,
Where the poplars whisper by the stream.

I smell the perfume of the clover bloom;
Sweet woodruff wafts me on the fragrant breeze
And evermore the low down of the bees
That hum the olden blossoms, white as cream,
Smell the fragrance that whisp'ers by the stream.

When only night and sleep shall stay with me,
When only rest shall lie on heart and brain,
How sweet will be the years that away,
How sweet will be the years that away,
How sweet will be the years that away,
How sweet will be the years that away.

Now to wake from the long tranquil dream,
To hear the poplars whisper by the stream.
DEAN HANLON.

TWICE MARRIED.

From the Chicago Tribune.

A marriage license was issued in Chicago a few days ago, which created some interest as a story as strange as any ever conceived in the brain of a professional story-teller. It is a story which requires no further storytelling to make it interesting; the bare facts are enough. The parties to the marriage were married over seven years ago, and were divorced and remarried, and yet procured a license to be married again. To begin at the beginning:

In the spring of 1878 Wilhelm Hermann emigrated from his native land, Germany, to America, intending to settle with some relatives in a small town in the State of Louisiana.

He was met at the station by a friend, and was taken to a hotel. The next day he was to stop there some time, and about two months after his arrival he was married to Amelia Bach, the daughter of an old German settler of that city. Three days after his marriage he was enticed by a chance acquaintance manipulated by him with any

was with her husband,
sely solicited for her hus-
requested, the officers
before we reached that
on gaining his liberty Hermann sought the General at New Orleans, and narrated the
of his wife.

He was suffering
had deprived him
and was besides half

are permitted to stay on
days with their families,
A. J. Davis, Assistant Sec-
preparations to bring
line of sentries was
at Fort Monroe, but as
able to see Davis when he
and went aboard and led
sitting him to take leave of
on leading Gen. Miles
sonner and led him into
of the water-battery pos-
forming an impetuous
At the entrance of the
and escorted him to a cell
the gun-room.

we were taken to make this
the aids by relief parties.
heavily, but he was
to keep out the light,
at cot—was placed be-
The door opening into
to be taken to the cell
cell with the prisoner,
door an officer of the
to watch the sentries
sees advertisement for her on a stray page
of a New Orleans newspaper; that she had
issued regarding the
He was allowed no read-
Bible and prayer-book,
any ration, except a cup
for breakfast with a lump
read and coffee for dinner
for supper. He was pro-
not let her do anything
ill with dyspepsia and had
to eat nothing but
which he had been accus-
to eat, and went with-
He was getting a
the way Union soldiers
men in prison, although
the sumptuous compared with
at.

An incident occurred illustrating the North. He
arrested was sent to pre-

Dr. asked the Doctor,
was the reply.
a permit you to touch
with me; is there no other
of New Jersey?

Well, that's an improvement
him to me.
tended the arch rebel an-

tramp, tramp of the ex-
down his cell, annoy-
at him angrily in a
walking. The sentry,
to the prisoner, so he
and his meanness, was
exasperated, and, if you
tempted to wrest this no-

he promptly reported
from Washington dis-
trous. This order was
blacksmiths came to the
of the common story of
national chain and lock
light and the sentry
and with rivets.

is this outrage per-
feminine with rage,
passion. "I protest
this indignity," and
of the blacksmiths skull if
his arm.

to had charge of the iron
I, am a soldier again.
my superior officer. You
do know as well as I do
ried out, whether you sub-

Johnson took of this
as he sat down upon his
months to rive the shackles,
understand that Secretary
in securing the prisoner.

of the iron proved very gall-
humiliation was commu-
before he was the head of the
the present and Commander-in-
of the southern army. Now we
tal out in a Yankee prison
his clothing or even to down
of his country, but
of his country, but

of chains
catia,
at him angrily in a
black-

black-

black-

black-

black-

black-

black-

black-

black-

black-

black-

black-

black-

black-

black-

black-

black-

black-

black-

SOCIALISM IN GERMANY.

Rational Agitation Made Revolutionary
by the Despotism of the Police.

Ah Interesting Letter, Which Corrects Some Popular Misapprehen-sions.

Reinhold Correspondence of the Philadelphia Times.

It is most interesting to read here in Germany, where Socialism is more highly developed than anywhere else in the world, the inquiries of our brothers of the press in America upon the subject of Socialism. The fraternal telegram, with headings such as "Socialism Unsettled" and kindred astounding titles, which are in no way amusing, as they are to the Socialists in America.

It is to be hoped that when these three principal works are made accessible to the English-speaking public, the Socialists will be able to present a more complete and accurate picture of their movement than they have been able to do up to the present time. The "Condition of the Working Class in England," the "Social Condition of the Working Class in Germany," the "Condition of the Working Class in France,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in Italy,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in Spain," the "Condition of the Working Class in Russia,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the United States," the "Condition of the Working Class in Japan,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in China,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in India," the "Condition of the Working Class in Australia,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in New Zealand," the "Condition of the Working Class in South Africa," the "Condition of the Working Class in the West Indies,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the East Indies," the "Condition of the Working Class in the South Seas," the "Condition of the Working Class in the North Atlantic," the "Condition of the Working Class in the South Atlantic,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Indian Ocean," the "Condition of the Working Class in the Pacific Ocean," the "Condition of the Working Class in the Arctic Ocean," the "Condition of the Working Class in the Antarctic Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Western Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Central Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Southern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Northern Ocean,"
the "Condition of the Working Class in the Eastern Ocean,"

